75 years ago

Sept. 4, 1917

Granite City School officials expedited the largest enrollment ever when the doors opened this fall, but the 2,441 pupils were beyond all expectations and since more students are expected to join, the district plans to increase the number of rooms and teachers. Some classrooms have 50 pupils.

Cruse will not seek re-election

'Time for a change'

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

After 40 years of public service, including the last seven as mayor of Granite City, Von Dee Cruse will step down from politics next spring.

"It is time for a change, both in the leadership of Granite City as well as in my personal and professional life," an emotional Cruse told the City Council Tuesday night.

"Therefore, I am announcing at this time that I will not seek reelection for a third term as your mayor."

The mayor's election will be held next April. Cruse, who will be 69 years old next month, cited family responsibilities as a reason for his decision. He made the announcement to his appointed employees at a meeting Tuesday afternoon, prior to the council meeting.

Cruse talked to a reporter while all of his appointed employees were in the next room waiting for him to inform them of his decision. He said he was afraid it would come as a shock to many of them, and seemed almost reluctant to make the announcement.

"This is the hardest part right now. These guys work hard for me, support me, believe in me," Cruse said.

He also said that some tough decisions must yet be made before his second term of office expires.

"The City of Granite City will face many tough issues in the next several months. Politics cannot and must not play a part in these important decisions," Cruse read from a prepared statement. "Therefore, I would not want there to be any doubt that my leadership is directed to the best interests of all of the citizens of Granite City and not toward a re-election campaign."

Cruse said that most people, in general, are dissatisfied with government as it exists today. He said a change in attitude has occurred among voters in favor of young, enthusiastic leadership.

"I concur with this belief and hope that some of our young and successful community leaders will make time available to dedicate to our community," he said.

Full ballot expected

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Mayor Von Dee Cruse's announcement Tuesday that he will not seek a third term in the office left only one candidate in the mayor's race so far.

Ward 4 Alderman Dan Brown, who two months ago announced his intention to run, reacted to Cruse's decision by saying that he expects a number of other candidates to jump into the ring.

"I assume many other mayor candidates will now emerge," Brown said. "We made the tough decision two months ago to actively challenge the two-term incumbent."

"Now that (Cruse) has withdrawn, many who may have lacked the determination to take on an incumbent probably will surface."

But, Brown agreed with Cruse, the mayor's decision creates an opportunity for Cruse to deal with some important issues without political considerations.

"I know some will perceive Mayor Cruse to be a 'game duck' between now and next May, but I view his announcement in a far more positive manner."

"I see this as an eight-month window of opportunity where decisive, far-reaching policy decisions can be formulated by this administration without consideration of political consequences," Brown said.

He cited a projected budget deficit, internal unrest in the police department and an ongoing feud between the administration and Street Superintendent Clayton "Jug" Harrison as problems.

Baucum recalled as top citizen

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Henry Baucum lived "right here in the midst" of Weaver Street's drugs and crime, but he never lost sight of the good side of Venice.

Because Baucum believed good will prevail over evil—even on Weaver Street—he was especially proud of the Ebony Village Apartments for senior citizens he built there in 1990.

Baucum referred to the apartments as a "fortress of goodness" in an area where enforcement officials often call a war zone.

"I don't know anywhere else where I could be treated better," he said last year.

Baucum died early Wednesday morning after a long illness.

Earlier this year, the Venice City Council voted to change the name of Weaver Street to Henry Baucum Avenue and the new signs were scheduled to go up this month.

Baucum, who had been bedridden for several months, said he was proud of the honor and believed the good people of Weaver Street will make it a place that will honor his family name.

Born in Mississippi, Baucum came to Venice after graduating from Lincoln High School in East St. Louis more than 70 years ago. In 1927, he opened Baucum Market in North Venice, a store he continued to operate until 1982.

While working at the store, Baucum began acquiring rental property and ultimately formed Baucum Realty and Home Development.

Although he briefly retired after selling the store, Baucum remained active in his realty business—with more than 40 rental units in Venice—until he fell ill earlier this year.

Because Baucum was willing to invest in Venice when it seemed like no one else would, Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols called Baucum "a very important pioneer in Venice" and said Baucum has probably done more than any other individual to provide Venice residents with decent places to live.

Madison County Board Member Don Garrett called Baucum "an outstanding, if not the outstanding, citizen of Venice" who continued to do good things for Venice right to the end.

"He is going to be sorely missed, by me and by the community," Garrett said.

Baucum served as a member of the Madison School board for 12 years and was a former alderman and city treasurer in Venice. He was honored in 1980 by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce for community service.

Wolf honored, roasted

By Pam Doepe-Hurd
Staff writer

Retiring state Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City, was the honoree and the target of friendly jokes at a roast Aug. 28 at the Alton Holiday Inn.

State Rep. Monroe Flinn, D-Cahokia, who is running in the legislative district being vacated by Wolf, took full advantage of the opportunity afforded to roast his colleague.

"After he retires, Sam is planning a career in journalism," Flinn said. "He is going to be delivering newspapers."

The roast was held to benefit the Phoenix Crisis Center in Granite City.

Flinn, who said Wolf once took a leave of absence from the legislature to balance his checkbook, added that Wolf is patriotic. "Every time they play the national anthem, he takes off his toupee."

On the serious side, Flinn said, "Sam and I have been friends for a long time and I hate to see him go. The folks at Phoenix can count on my support.

"Sam will remain my friend for as long as we are both alive."

Wolf countered with, "It's been a real privilege to serve in the House these last 16 years. It's been a real pleasure to work with Monroe Flinn. We are still going to play golf, but I'm just going to be watching you more closely."

Illinois House Majority Leader Jim McPike, D-Alton, said, "On the campaign trail, he's tough, he doesn't get pushed around. But he's a perfect gentleman. I'm proud to have known him."

Jobs worry crowd at town meeting

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Health care and education funding reform, export of American jobs and government spending were the hot topics at U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello's town hall meeting in Madison on Wednesday afternoon.

About 55 area residents from Granite City, Madison, Venice and Nameoki Township gathered to hear the Democrat from the 21st Congressional District speak at the Madison Recreation Center.

"I have never seen, in my short life, the suffering, the pain and the anguish that exist in this country today," Costello told the crowd.

He said that the solutions to the nation's problems may be found only in new programs, rather than "the pointing of fingers" that has dominated the national political scene lately.

"Paul Pace of Granite City was concerned about the possible loss of American jobs to Mexico through a proposed free trade agreement. Pace, a Chrysler mechanic, said he recently bought a Dodge pickup truck, only to find later that the truck had been manufactured and assembled in Mexico."

"Why is it that Chrysler would go all the way to Mexico to make these trucks?" Pace asked.

Costello said he opposes the proposed free trade agreement in favor of a "fair trade agreement."

He said any agreement between the United States and Mexico must insist on similar standards and working conditions—like a minimum wage law and safety and environmental standards—as are required here.

John Moran of Granite City expressed concern regarding the escalating cost of health care and the federal government's apparent inability to do anything about it.

"Why, as a great nation, can't we do anything?"

60-year sentence for sexually assaulting child

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

A Granite City man was sentenced Monday to 60 years in prison for three separate counts of sexual assault of a child he was watching.

Robert LeCompte, 48, was convicted of the charges by a St. Clair County jury in June. The charges relate to incidents which occurred between October 1991 and February 1992.

Assistant State's Attorney Dennis Hatch recommended a 75-year sentence for LeCompte because he had previously served prison time on an attempted robbery from 1983 and murder and armed robbery convictions from 1988.

"The eight-year-old victim testified. He was her babysitter and he violated that trust," Hatch said. "It's hard to tell what effect that will have on her."

Public Defender Jon Allard said LeCompte, of the 2800 block of Pershing Boulevard, had gone nearly 12 years without getting into any trouble since his last release from prison.

He asked the judge to consider that factor as well as LeCompte's age.

Man dies in car-van collision near Collinsville

By Lisa Fitt
Staff writer

A 31-year-old man was killed early Sunday morning when his car crossed the center lane of Illinois 127 just north of Collinsville and collided head-on with a bus carrying 14 passengers.

The car's driver, McKinley Hardmon, 31, of Jacksonville, Fla., was pronounced dead at the scene.

The driver of the bus, Paul W. Bruns, 70, of Godfrey, was in stable condition at Anderson Hospital on Monday. No other injuries were reported.

Illinois State Police Sgt. Steven Hargis said Hardmon was traveling north on Illinois 127 and the bus was southbound.

For unknown reasons, Hardmon's 1989 Nissan crossed over the center line into oncoming traffic, directly into the path of the bus, at about 4:25 a.m., authorities said.

Ron McDonald of the Collinsville Fire Department said Hardmon's car ran under the bus and was demolished.

"It was one of the worst accidents I've seen in about 15 years," McDonald said. "I believe that the passengers on the bus were from a bachelor party, but say the bus driver, employed by Godfrey Bus Line, had not been drinking."

Police were waiting Monday for an autopsy report to determine if Hardmon had alcohol in his blood.

"We don't know exactly what happened yet," said Sharon Robinson, an employee with Godfrey Bus Line. "We're still waiting for the police report."

Robinson said a list was being compiled with the names of the bus passengers.

She said all of the passengers were from Godfrey and Edwardsville, and were all over 21 years old.

The trial of five men in Alton's biggest drug case has gone down in flames on all counts.

A hung jury caused a judge to declare a mistrial and assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Garrison said the Alton men will be tried again on the same charges, beginning Nov. 2.

It's zero to zero and we're getting ready to start the game, he said. "We're just going to crank it up and do it again."

U.S. District Judge William Stiehl declared a mistrial shortly after 2 p.m. Monday when jurors said they were hopelessly deadlocked after deliberating about 13 hours.

The deliberations began Friday morning after an eight-day trial. Jurors were allowed to go home over the weekend and resumed deliberations Monday morning.

The defendants are Robert Gaston, 40, Mark Mike, 36, Albert Wagner, 30, Gary Shorter, 24, and Marcus McAllister, 19. All are charged with conspiracy to distribute cocaine.

Gaston, Mike and Shorter are charged with money laundering, and Gaston faces an additional charge of interstate transportation in aid of racketeering.

All have been denied bail and will remain in custody pending the second trial.

Garrison said the mistrial is not a victory for either side, nor will either side have an advantage in a second trial.

McAllister's attorney, Sept. Cain, declined to comment, but other defense attorneys said their clients were disappointed. "I'm happy they weren't convicted, but I'm disappointed they weren't acquitted," Terry Niehoff, Wagner's attorney, said. Niehoff said he thought the jury's inability to reach a decision on any of the charges indicated jurors were skeptical of the credibility of key govern-

Granite City

DUI arrest on 22nd St.

Angela D. Gallagher, 21, of the 2100 block of Monroe Street, was arrested at 12:38 a.m. Aug. 31 for driving under the influence of alcohol, disobeying a traffic control device and driving with an expired license.

An officer reported observing her vehicle fail to stop at a sign at 22nd Street and Washington Avenue.

Gallagher took three field sobriety tests and a breath analysis test. She was lodged pending trial, according to a police report.

Slow driver charged

Peggy Sue Hitz, 34, of the 2300 block of Orville Avenue, was arrested at 1:39 a.m. Aug. 30 for driving under the influence of alcohol, improper lane usage and operating a vehicle without liability insurance.

A police officer reported seeing a brown Dodge traveling slowly on Nameoki Road near Victory Drive. The car was weaving in a northbound lane and struck the curb, according to a police report.

The Dodge then made a wide turn onto Faith Avenue, passing through the oncoming traffic lane, according to the report, and stopping in the middle of the road near the intersection of Faith and Myrtle avenues.

The officer activated his emergency lights and followed the car to a point near Faith Avenue and Fortune Drive. The car allegedly did not exceed 10 miles per hour after leaving Nameoki Road.

At the driver took three field sobriety tests and a breath analysis test and was charged. She was lodged pending trial.

•Cruse

He said he expects a number of candidates to announce their intention to seek the office, and consideration for their interests weighed in his decision to make the announcement at this time.

Cruse, a former alderman and assessor, said he expects the upcoming political campaign includes good candidates who will deal with the issues facing the city.

"I believe I'm doing the best thing for the city. I am not going to hold animosities against whoever becomes the next mayor."

"I think I'm doing what's best for me and the city. It's not easy to say that, either, and I'm not saying I don't think I couldn't continue to do a good job as mayor," he told a reporter.

"I've not done a bad job. I think I have been a good mayor. I've made a lot of changes, but I'm not sure other people are qualified to be mayor. I hope whoever I have chosen will do better than I did."

"I hope whoever replaces me wants to do more and better than I did. Whoever follows me has a tough act to follow," he said.

"Not that I've done it alone. I have had the cooperation of the City Council and that's what makes good things possible."

"For the next mayor, I would warn: As the mayor's relationship with the council goes, so goes the city."

The most important factor weighing in the decision not to seek re-election was consideration for his family, Cruse said.

"Most importantly, there are sacrifices I have asked my family to make as the price for my public career."

"My lovely wife, Lois, has been my companion, my partner and my friend. Lois made sacrifices to maintain the household and the children when my public life demanded extraordinary time and unusual hours."

"Lois retired several years ago and the children and grand children are grown and raising their own family."

"It is my desire, and it is time, for me to direct my energies to Lois and my family," he said.

Cruse, which should be addressed in the next eight months.

"I personally thank Mayor Cruse for his many years of public service and his many years of actually utilizing these last eight months of his administration for the good of the city," Brown said.

Regarding the upcoming mayoral race, Brown said it should be one that, either, and I'm not saying I don't think I couldn't continue to do a good job as mayor."

"I wish him and his wife, Lois, well," Brown said.

Following Cruse's announcement, speculation abounded among politicians regarding who might enter the mayoral race.

Among the names being mentioned Tuesday night as possible mayoral candidates were: Harrison, Aldermen Paul Fick, Jeff Miller, City Economic Development Director Alan Ortals;

Edmund L. Mendoza, 31, of Collinsville and Cesareo L. Ochoa, 30, of Fairmont City were arrested at 9:06 p.m. Aug. 28 and each charged with possession of cannabis.

According to a police report, an officer saw a white Chevrolet Corvette convertible disobey a stop sign at 19th and State streets and cross the center line several times.

The car was pulled over at 18th Street and Edison Avenue, where Mendoza, the driver, told an officer he had no driver's license, according to the report.

A hand-rolled cigarette, allegedly containing cannabis, was found in a cigarette box on the passenger-side seat, where Ochoa had been sitting.

K-9 officer Max was called to the scene, and other evidence was collected, according to the report.

Ochoa was held pending $77 cash bail.

Mendoza, who was wanted by the St. Louis County Sheriff's Department on a cocaine citation, was held pending extradition.

An investigation into the matter is continuing.

Battery, resisting arrest

Larry A. Hanson Jr., 26, of the 1300 block of 18th Street, was arrested at 9:16 p.m. Aug. 28 for battery and resisting arrest.

Officers dispatched to the 1300 block of 18th Street met with Christine Hunt, 24, who told them Hanson had hit her in the face.

A disturbance broke out in the presence of officers, and Larry Hanson allegedly pushed at an officer in an attempt to reach a witness to the alleged battery, according to a police report.

Hanson is alleged to have struggled with an officer while being placed in custody. He was lodged pending $214 cash as bail.

Vehicle stolen, located
Tim Sindle, 45, of the 1000 block of St. James Street, reported that his 1991 Chevrolet Blazer was stolen from a parking lot at Granite City Steel, 16th Street and Madison Avenue, sometime between 7 a.m. Aug. 30 and 12:30 a.m. Aug. 31.

The vehicle was later found near the intersection of 20th and Salisbury streets in St. Louis, according to the report.

A hung jury caused a judge to declare a mistrial and assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Garrison said the Alton men will be tried again on the same charges, beginning Nov. 2.

It's zero to zero and we're getting ready to start the game, he said. "We're just going to crank it up and do it again."

U.S. District Judge William Stiehl declared a mistrial shortly after 2 p.m. Monday when jurors said they were hopelessly deadlocked after deliberating about 13 hours.

The deliberations began Friday morning after an eight-day trial. Jurors were allowed to go home over the weekend and resumed deliberations Monday morning.

The defendants are Robert Gaston, 40, Mark Mike, 36, Albert Wagner, 30, Gary Shorter, 24, and Marcus McAllister, 19. All are charged with conspiracy to distribute cocaine.

Gaston, Mike and Shorter are charged with money laundering, and Gaston faces an additional charge of interstate transportation in aid of racketeering.

All have been denied bail and will remain in custody pending the second trial.

Garrison said the mistrial is not a victory for either side, nor will either side have an advantage in a second trial.

McAllister's attorney, Sept. Cain, declined to comment, but other defense attorneys said their clients were disappointed. "I'm happy they weren't convicted, but I'm disappointed they weren't acquitted," Terry Niehoff, Wagner's attorney, said. Niehoff said he thought the jury's inability to reach a decision on any of the charges indicated jurors were skeptical of the credibility of key govern-

Support pool bond issue

There is no doubt that swimming pools were on the mind of the Granite City Park Board last month.

The now-closed swimming pool at Wilson Park and its related issues were discussed for more than 15 hours at five public park board meetings in August. In the end, the commissioners unanimously agreed that Wilson Park needs a new pool and voted to place a $1,887,057 bond issue to pay for one on the November ballot.

We applaud the members of the park board for their hard work and believe the members made the right decision. At the same time, we realize that in tight times will make the bond issue — which will increase taxes — a hard sell to the voters.

With that in mind, here are a few of the points that opponents of the new pool are bound to raise.

The old pool has served well for 30 years and could be fixed. If you own a 1983 Chevrolet Impala it undoubtedly has served well and can be repaired, although the cost may well exceed payments on a new car. If your Impala is a cherry 2-door with a large-block V-8 engine, it is a true classic and worth keeping at any cost. But if it is a beat-up 4-door with a six-cylinder engine, it is a headache that can only get worse as time passes.

Like the 4-door '63 Impala, the Wilson Park pool should be considered an underpowered dinosaur overdue for the scrap heap.

Even with the most elaborate overhaul, the pool would last, at best, 15 more years. The proposed new pool will last at least 25 years and, with proper maintenance, may well serve as well and as long as the old pool did.

If we must build something new, we should think big. A large aquatic sports park would probably attract paying customers from all around the area and would undoubtedly be an asset to Granite City. If a private investor wanted to open a large facility like that, it would be welcomed.

But providing a recreational tourist attraction is not the job of the Granite City Park District and the commissioners wisely turned down a proposal for that type of facility. The swimming pool selected by the park board is just that, a swimming pool. It is designed for enjoyment by children and their families.

The proposed pool has a wading pool for young children and a large deck area around the pool for parents who wish to watch their children swim. Family recreation should be the top priority of the park district and the proposed pool appears to provide family recreation at its best.

The pool shouldn't be moved to be next to the ice rink. Wilson Park is centrally located, making it the most logical site for a community swimming pool. If the new pool were built in the location of the old pool, it would require removal of a large number of trees and a portion of the sunken Japanese garden.

On the other hand, by building the new pool next to the ice skating rink, the facilities will be able to share a parking lot. The pool cost includes paving that lot — and dressing rooms. It also puts the developed-facilities portion of Wilson Park into one area.

The last thing Granite City needs is another tax. It is a rare person who believes taxes are anything but too high already and no new tax is painless. With this particular tax, however, the taxpayers will be able to see what they are getting for their money — every penny will go toward the new swimming pool. Just knowing exactly what a part of our taxes has bought directly is bound to be worth something.

We're sure there will be other arguments made against the pool bond issue, but we are equally sure none of those arguments will provide a compelling reason to oppose it.

We once said it was unconscionable, if not downright criminal, for the children of Granite City to be without a public swimming pool. The park board has done its part to rectify the situation. Now it is up to the voters.

Residents of the Granite City Park District should vote in November to approve the $1,887,057 bond issue to build a new swimming pool in Wilson Park.

Old days lacked modern appliances

Carol Clarkin writes a weekly Edwardsville Journal column.

Reminiscing last week about Burma-Shave and Red Man ads along yesterday's roads, I thought about how I grew up and how I thought about life without enjoying them — set me thinking.

I thought of the long list of other things they never recognize, commonplace things that we take for granted: running boards on cars and rumble seats in truly sporty models.

How I yearned for Dad to buy a car with a rumble seat. In the terminology of my childhood, I'd have been the cat's pajamas riding around in that. No dice, though.

Those were the years in which he drove a big old Buick touring car, one with running boards so wide this skinny kid could lie flat on one and no part of me oozed over the side. The thing was built like a Sherman tank and must have been as heavy.

In one notable year, on a stretch of two meager lanes of road between Danville and our small Indiana town, he managed to decimate the livestock population of one farm by two full-grown hogs and one hefty calf who had wandered out of their fenced field — with-out even denting the Buick, let alone overturning it. Dad, the Extreminator.

Would D.J. or Tom recognize a rug beater? I doubt it. In spite of the fact that Mom had an old Hoover upright with a gray cloth bag, at least twice a year — spring and fall — our rugs were draped over the backyard clothesline and beaten vigorously, with those elongated wire beaters.

I think they know what clotheslines are, but would they remember any of the pre-electric clotheslines and how they worked? They ever churned butter or cranked an ice cream freezer by hand?

These were the days of home delivery, pre-supermarket/mail days. Milk, in glass bottles, was delivered in the wee, small hours. On delivery day, one rose early to get it inside — left too long on the porch in summer, it spoiled; in winter, it would freeze. The cardboard sign denoting the size of the block of ice required was displayed in the living room window because the ice man cometh.

The large pan under the icebox on the back porch had to be dumped daily and the ice pick was as de rigueur in the kitchen as a blender is today.

Grocery stores, invariably small and "neighborhood," delivered to the door stuff like Old Dutch Cleanser, Gold Dust Twins, Fels Naptha Soap (the one with the blue box and the washing machine), and bulk cookies and soda crackers and dill pickles.

These were days of Nehi and Orange Crush and home brew. Days when, in small towns at least, family doctors made home calls. When you were diagnosed as having measles or mumps or scarlet fever, the quarantine sign went up on the front porch.

With no air conditioner or even window fans, in summer we relied on tiny tin-can fans, hand-held, and on the fans from funeral homes, and screened-in sleeping porches. Ladies perspired and men sweat — a lot. In winter, we dressed standing over hot air registers or in front of a fireplace.

Memory tends to soften the harsh lines of inconvenience. What, in reality, required elbow grease and discomfort is looked back on as fun. Would I trade my dishwasher and air conditioning for that long ago fun? In your dreams!

Cars make staff more efficient

TO THE EDITOR:

A recent news article quoted Madison County Board Member Jack Frandsen of Alhambra as saying, "We want to get the biggest bang for our bucks."

This quote was made concerning the issue of maintaining a saturation program (each deputy is issued a patrol car that he takes home) in the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

The County Board, at the urging of County Auditor Fred Bathon, has contracted for an accounting firm in St. Louis to conduct an audit to determine whether this program is in the county's best economic interest.

Members of the Sheriff's Department have just completed answering a three-page questionnaire sent out by the auditors.

It asks such things as, "How far do you drive your car to work?" "Where do you go for gasoline?"

Every good manager knows that the largest expense in running any business is labor costs.

Prior to inception of the saturation program in 1979, deputies would drive their personal cars to Edwardsville, where they attended roll call. Then, after assignment of a patrol car from a motor pool, they would drive that patrol car to where they parked their personal cars and load their equipment.

What equipment? Report forms, ticket books, night stick, rain gear, flashlight, portable radio, shotgun and other necessary equipment issued to each officer.

After loading the patrol car, the officer would drive to his patrol area, which was usually a 20- to 30-minute drive. Remember, Madison County is 750 square miles, not the usual three- or four-minute trip across town encountered in even the biggest city.

Most of the time the officer would be in his primary patrol area about one hour after starting his shift.

Toward the end of a shift, the officer would leave the area about one hour early, or sometimes in order to get home back to Edwardsville, service his patrol car for the next shift, and complete and turn in what ever paper work he had, to avoid overtime.

This meant that, for six hours every day, there were usually no police cars within the patrol areas unless the deputies were working overtime. They were either driving to Edwardsville or from Edwardsville and the county was paying the current rate of $1.14 per minute to commute back and forth. Today, that rate is around $16.50 per hour or $33 a day for each officer.

So often in the past, the incoming shift would have to sit around drinking coffee and talking, waiting for their patrol cars because the previous shift was working overtime.

These guys were paid to sit around, sometimes for hours. What about the times the squad cars broke down and we had to have as many as three deputies in one patrol car? Talk about manpower!

One can readily see that it is economically more efficient to pay $1.14 per gallon for deputies to take their cars home instead of roughly $33 a day to commute back and forth to Edwardsville. Many people have misconceptions, due to news reports and comments of others, that the deputies are just being given cars to drive to and from work.

Every deputy's patrol car is his mobile office. When he walks out of his home and starts his car, he has arrived at work and is working.

He is enforcing laws, answering radio calls and patrolling when he pulls away from the curb. He is not commuting to work; he is at work.

A large volume of his paper work is completed inside his patrol car as he answers radio calls and conducts investigations.

The saturation program has helped control overtime costs as well as the cost of maintaining the patrol cars.

Often, as shift-change time approaches, the watch commanders in Edwardsville call out incoming officers early from their homes to respond to calls which would otherwise incur overtime pay for the on-duty shift.

The officers called in to work early are then sent home early to avoid overtime costs. Additionally, in the past, a deputy working overtime was paid overtime pay to drive his squad car back to Edwardsville and turn in his paper work.

Today, once his investigation is completed, he is not paid to drive his squad car home.

His overtime terminates when the assignment is completed, wherever he may be in the county.

All of these previously mentioned facts, and many more, were never addressed by his patrol car in the preparations.

I invite Granite City area union families to join us in our annual Labor Day parade Monday, Sept. 7, starting at 10 a.m.

As usual, we will move from 19th Street and Edison Avenue up Madison Avenue, and go on to Wilson Park by Niedringhaus School, where refreshments will be provided.

Again we will have the Granite City High School band with us during the parade and have unions providing labor-oriented music with Eddie Starr at the picnic site.

Politicians will help us celebrate "Labor Day in the sun." Our grand marshal this year will be State Rep. Jay Hoffman.

Congressman Dick Durbin, who now represents part of Madison County, will also be with us. Also, our friends, Craig Virgin and Bob Daiber, state legislative candidates.

Other speakers attending will be State Rep. Sam Wolf, who is retiring; John Bellico, mayor of Madison; and Madison County Democratic chairman, representatives of State Supreme Court candidates Moses Harrison and Gang-Jerry-Jewell; Ponton Beach Mayor Glen Wilson; and Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

Come out to the parade and stay to enjoy the day.

The Sheriff's Department provides police services for a large number of little cities throughout the county and they have never been strong armed into contracting for services like residents of Godfrey were. They are still getting a free ride and I resent it.

This business about deputies having cars to take home is political fessing, not any real desire to protect the public's interest.

A few folks are mad at Sheriff Churchich for opposing their candidate for clerk of the Circuit Court. They have to spend more political money to get their man elected. Well, we'll show that Sheriff Churchich is in control, him one way or another, at the expense of police services to the citizens of Madison County.

Let's retire in the next two years; but there are a large number of young men and women who are serving in the department for years to come.

They are full of ambition and pride in the Madison County Sheriff's Department as one of the leading police departments in Illinois.

Don't let this department be destroyed and rendered antiquated by politics and jealousy of a few men.

The "big bang" could soon become the "little pop" for the Sheriff's Department if these men have their way.

Parade, picnic to mark Labor Day

TO THE EDITOR:

I thank all those who attempted to give blood at the recent Granite City chapter of the AFL-CIO blood drive.

Our goal was 30 pints and we had 77 people come in, with 41 pints of blood donated. We hope no one in your family needed that blood but, if that was the case, then you can thank some of our area's finest unionists for their efforts and time.

Nine international unions and 15 local unions were represented. Our plaque for most members donating went to United Steelworkers Local 67 for the fifth consecutive time, for 24 donors.

We also thank Petr's Catering for donating a fine chili dinner for all attending, and the retired steelworker volunteers (SOAIF) for their aid in the preparations.

Hard to get rid of drug dealers

TO THE EDITOR:

I have followed with interest your stories about landlords renting to drug dealers and I would like to share with you a view from the other side.

As a landlord, I have yet to rent to anyone who told me they sold drugs for a living. If I find out that they are in fact doing this, I will evict them.

I feel it is not fair to the neighbors to have this type of activity. However, these are the problems I face.

The police do not notify property owners when they are called out for a disturbance.

The person has to be convicted of dealing drugs. If I try and toss them out because I suspect them, I leave myself wide open for a lawsuit, and there are a lot of lawyers out there.

To start eviction procedures, the costs are $62 to file eviction papers, $50 to have the sheriff serve the papers (for each pmt on the lease) $112 (each) for an attorney's fee, and for a grand total of $386.

It takes one to three months to get them out. By then, extensive damage has usually been done, not to mention lost rent.

I do screen people as well as I can, but all it takes is one bad tenant to wipe you out. This year, I have had two. As a result, I have very little money left to do the necessary upkeep and repairs on my buildings.

Couple this with the high property taxes that a landlord has to pay, anywhere from double to triple what the neighbors pay, and you can see where we are really being squeezed.

Most of the rent received goes to the bank to make the payments, by the way.

Granted, there are some landlords who don't care one way or another, but 80 to 85 percent of us are just small-time people who have full-time jobs and retired folks who have Social Security and a couple of rent checks to get by on each month.

In closing, I would like to address our elected representatives. There is a problem, but it can be corrected. All I would like to ask of you is to make it easier for us to get these people out of our buildings and, hopefully, out of our communities.

Bill Haine, Madison County state's attorney, said, "Sam has always been politically kind to a fault."

"He works without controversy, without scandal, working with local officials. He's much respected. I'd like to know how he does it without controversy."

"He keeps me informed as to legislation, particularly the pay increase for the state's attorney. I don't want to say too much more because I want that pay increase to go through."

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse said, "I don't know any bad stories about Sam, but I couldn't resist coming here and speaking."

Wolf answered his roasters with, "I'll just say, somewhere, somehow, sometime, and I don't need to go any further than that."

To Haine in particular, Wolf said, "Bill, I think you invented the word controversy."

Haine said Wolf is particularly admired for his work with the Phoenix Crisis Center.

"There is no higher calling than to comfort the afflicted and that's what Phoenix Crisis Center does," Haine said. "Sam has taken them under his wing and we deeply appreciate what he has done for Phoenix Crisis Center."

Edgar signs anti-crime bills

A package of anti-crime bills to crack down on gang activity and increase penalties for the murder of a police officer were signed into law recently by Governor Jim Edgar, according to State Senator Frank Watson (R-Greenville).

Senate Bill 2154 creates the Illinois Streetgang Terrorism Omnibus Prevention Act and allows public bodies and school districts to sue gangs for damages done by gang activity. The law also authorizes the State Police to establish an electronic system of sharing gang-related information among police agencies.

Watson said House Bill 2467 allows authorities to share data and arrest records on juveniles when the information pertains to known gang members. Police were previously restricted from this information because of privacy requirements. Senate Bill 1648 makes it easier to try a 15- or 16-year-old gang member as an adult and Senate Bill 1499 allows the state to suspend the driver's licenses of people convicted of drive-by shootings.

Another new law, Senate Bill 2178, allows public housing authorities to force drug dealers out of their buildings, while Senate Bill 2181 expands the "safe school zone" to include public streets, public ways within 1,000 feet of schools and public housing.

Penalties for the murder and attempted murder of a police officer, firefighter and other public safety officers are increased, under a new law signed by the governor. The new law requires a minimum sentence of life in prison for murdering a police officer and other public safety officers. The maximum sentence would still be death penalty, as it is now. The penalty for attempting first-degree murder of police officer, firefighter, correctional officer, paramedic, ambulance driver and governmental emergency personnel is increased to a minimum sentence of 15 years and a maximum of 60 years in prison.

Carol Lee Chiappa, director of Phoenix Crisis Center, presents a plaque in appreciation for what Wolf has done for the center.

State's Attorney Bill Haine compliments Wolf on his accomplishments.

Colleen Hennessey

Colleen (Melvay) Hennessey, 64, of Creve Coeur, Mo., formerly of Granite City, died at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1992, at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where she had been a patient for one week. She had been ill for six months.

She was born Aug. 23, 1928, in Granite City, where she was a resident until moving 12 years ago to Creve Coeur, Mo. She was a homemaker and of Protestant faith.

Survivors include her husband, Tom Hennessey of Creve Coeur, Mo.; Don Hennessey of Berkeley, Mo.; two daughters, Christi Korn of St. Ann, Mo. and Karen Staudacher of Denver, Colo.; four brothers, Wayne and Wendell Melvay, both of Granite City; Jay Melvay of St. Charles, Mo. and Lester Melvay of Florissant, Mo.; two sisters, Ciella Schreiber and Pat Martin, both of Granite City, and five grandchildren.

Memorials will be held at her parents' graves, Charles and Retha (Pettit) Melvay.

Visitation will be from 4 to 9 p.m. Friday, at Collier's Funeral Home, 3400 North Lindbergh, St. Louis, where services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Memorials are suggested to the American Cancer Society.

Henry Baucum

Henry Madison Baucum, 86, of Venice died at 2:35 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1992, at his residence after a long illness.

Mr. Baucum was born June 1, 1906, in Bay Mills, Mich. He had been a resident of the Venice area for 71 years.

A veteran of World War II, serving in the U.S. Army, he was a businessman here for 65 years, operating a grocery store and developing apartment housing. He had served as Venice city treasurer, a Venice alderman and a Madison School Board member and was active in the Bethel A.M.E. Church.

Survivors include his wife, Miriam Garrett Baucum of Venice; one brother, William Baucum of Lebanon, Ill.; and one sister, Edna C. Williams of Inglewood, Calif.

Visitation will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday, Sept. 7, at Officer Funeral Home, 2114 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, and from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday at the Bethel A.M.E. Church, 1035 Market St.

Burial where services will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday, with the Rev. John Q. Owens, pastor, officiating. Burial will take place Tuesday at Jefferson Barracks National Cemetery, St. Louis.

Richard Opich

Richard J. Opich, 64, of University City, Mo., a former local resident, died at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1992, at his home.

He was born April 24, 1928, in Madison, the son of Michael and Mary Opich.

Mr. Opich was retired from the Spectruline plant, Madison, where he worked for 37 years.

He was a member of United Steelworkers Local 4804, Eagles Aerie 254 in Alton, Moose Lodge 272 in Granite City and American Association of Retired Persons Chapter 321.

Lawsuits dog junkyard operators

Madison County State's Attorney William Haine is suing four salvage yards to make them safer, less unsightly places.

Haine said that despite pleas from county officials, the operators of the junkyards have refused to meet county requirements that junkyards be completely enclosed by a fence that blocks the view and is at least 6 feet high.

The suits ask that a Circuit Court judge order compliance or fine the owners $500, plus $300 for each week they allow violations to continue.

The suits were filed Tuesday against Ken Edwards, operator of Ken's Auto Parts, 3900 College Ave., Alton; and Edna Mellett, owner of the property, William and Jeanette Pauley, who operate a salvage yard off Harris Lane in Foster Township, Francis D. and Helen Genzco for a salvage yard in Saline Township, and Jesse T. Blakey, who has a salvage yard in Saline Township.

"They need to build fences high enough and sturdy enough to keep people out and block the view," Haine said.

Haine added that four other junkyards have complied with the fencing requirements since personnel from the County Building, Zoning and Environmental Department stepped up enforcement last year.

It became apparent, because of neighbors' complaints, that some salvage yards had no way

Agnes Dillard

Lula Agnes (Skellton) Dillard, 78, of Granite City, died at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1992, at her residence after a lengthy illness.

She was born Feb. 2, 1914, in Eldorado, Ill. She was a homemaker; and member of the Granite City Church of God for more than 55 years.

Survivors include her husband, Arlus "Jack" Dillard; two sons, Donald E. Dillard of Murphysboro, Ill., and Larry G. Dillard of Granite City; two sisters, Mary Dillard and Ruby Nell Willford, both of Eldorado; and four grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two children, her parents, six sisters, and four brothers.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Irwin Chapel, 3960 Maryville Road, Granite City 62040.

Memorials are suggested to the Church of God, 1205 West Ponton Road, Granite City.

Doreen Gray

Doreen P. (Troyer) Gray, 60, of Granite City died at 5:46 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1992, at Anderson Hospital, Maryville, where she had been a patient for one day. She had been ill for five years.

Mrs. Gray was born Aug. 10, 1932, in Salem, Mo. She was employed for 10 years as a waitress at the Melvin Price Support Center, Granite City, and was past president of the American Legion Auxiliary. She was a member of the Mexican Honorary Commission.

Survivors include her husband, Julius C. Gray of Granite City, whom she married April 10, 1954; three sons, Charles Gray of Caseyville, Dan Gray of Edwardsville, and Julius J. Gray of Granite City; three daughters, Deborah Kutz of Glen Carbon, Patricia Koeber of Livingston and Cassandra Gray of Granite City; a brother, Norm Wayne Troyer of Smyrna, Tenn.; and six grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Noah and Pearl Murray. Troyer.

Visitation will be held from 4 to 8 p.m. today at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Ponton Road, Granite City, where services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday. Burial will be at Jefferson Barracks National Cemetery, St. Louis.

Memorials to the Missouri Baptist Cancer Center are suggested.

Trivia

In 1919 the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council represented 59 unions with memberships that ranged from the nearly 1,000 members of Local 11 of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers to two dozen or so women in the Tin, Iron, Steel, and Granite Ware Workers.

The Madison County station pumps will be removed, one at a time, and shipped to Kansas City for complete reconditioning. Work on the pumps in East St. Louis will be less extensive.

The East St. Louis pump station was built in 1960 and the Madison County station was constructed in 1963.

They are owned and operated by the Metro East Sanitary District, which is headquartered in Granite City.

The sanitary district is responsible for surface drainage in a 100-square-mile area and also operates sewage collection and treatment facilities in parts of St. Clair and Madison counties.

Under a special authorization of the U.S. Congress, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is rehabilitating flood protection to prevent youngsters from coming into the property," Haine said.

Haine stressed that the primary concern is for the safety of children who might venture onto the junkyard property.

Haine said salvage yard operators "were warned about meeting the law."

"We asked them to comply," he said. "We gave them plenty of time because we didn't want to put anyone out of business."

we use some money for a national health care program?" Moran asked.

Costello said he expects a national health care program to be in place in the next four or five years.

He supports a plan that would require employers to either provide health benefits for their workers or pay a premium to fund a federal program.

Costello said that while a national health care program would be very expensive, it is necessary to assist the 35 million Americans without health insurance today.

Lester Campbell of Winice asked why the federal government does not provide air conditioning and heating in some public housing units.

Costello said the federal government is currently using funds to build new housing units rather than than to improve existing units.

Dan Counts of Granite City asked Costello, who supports a balanced budget—proposal—to address what specific programs he would cut.

Costello said he is opposed to cutting Social Security, but that cuts would have to be made in every other federal program.

"Most people want the budget balanced, but want to get the (savings) from the other guy's program," he said.

The government is facing a $400 billion shortfall this year, and the national debt is quickly approaching $3 trillion, Costello said.

He said President George Bush's proposed federal budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 included only $2.5 billion for aid to urban areas, yet also proposed foreign aid totaling $18 billion.

He criticized Bush's request for a 24 percent increase in the amount allocated for the "Star Wars" missile defense system and spending for a proposed space station and supercollider program.

"We need to start spending that money to rebuild America," he said.

Madison School Superintendent Dan Kostenecki asked how local school districts could be expected to meet higher standards and requirements while receiving less money from the federal government.

Costello said education, along with a health care program, needs to be made a top priority.

"We need to determine our number-one mission and priority, and quit trying to do everything to everybody," Costello said.

"We have to turn things around and we have to start prioritizing," he said.

Costello will be challenged by Republican Mike Starr in the Nov. 3 election.

Contract for pump station repairs

A contract totaling $833,700 has been awarded to Korte-Plocher Construction Co. for renovation work at two stormwater pumping stations operated by the Metro East Sanitary District.

The contract was awarded by the St. Louis District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The pumping stations, one in East St. Louis and the other at the Melvin Price Support Center near Granite City, help to prevent flooding by pumping out excess rainfall runoff and some seepage from under the extensive levee system in the Metro East area.

The Korte-Plocher contract involves rehabilitation of pumps and gates at the two pumping stations.

Each of the three stormwater pumps at the East St. Louis station, 1600 S. Front St., has a capacity of 147,000 gallons per minute and is powered by a 1,500-horsepower electric motor.

Each of the three stormwater pumps at the Madison County station, adjacent to the Mississippi River just north of Merchants Bridge, has a maximum capacity of 34,000 gallons per minute and is powered by a 400-hp electric motor.

The Madison County station pumps will be removed, one at a time, and shipped to Kansas City for complete reconditioning. Work on the pumps in East St. Louis will be less extensive.

The East St. Louis pump station was built in 1960 and the Madison County station was constructed in 1963.

They are owned and operated by the Metro East Sanitary District, which is headquartered in Granite City.

The sanitary district is responsible for surface drainage in a 100-square-mile area and also operates sewage collection and treatment facilities in parts of St. Clair and Madison counties.

Under a special authorization of the U.S. Congress, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is rehabilitating flood protection systems throughout the Metro East area.

The federal government pays 75 percent of the rehabilitation costs and the Metro East Sanitary District is responsible for the remaining 25 percent.

The Corps of Engineers has done all engineering studies for the pumping station renovations.

GCHS teacher will serve as writing contest judge

The National Council of Teachers of English has announced the appointment of Cynthia Horne, a teacher at Granite City Senior High School, as a regional judge for the 1992 NCTE Achievement Awards in writing.

Through this nationally recognized competition, now in its 34th year, approximately 400 high school seniors are cited for excellence in writing and are recommended to colleges and universities for admission and for financial aid, if needed.

More than 1,000 students have been nominated for Achievement Awards in 1992. Results of the contest are to be announced in October.

Students are nominated for Achievement Awards in Writing by their high school English departments and are chosen for recognition by state judging committees. The regional judging committees are composed of both high school and college teachers who work under the direction of state coordinators.

The National Council of Teachers of English is made up of more than 125,000 individual teachers and institutional members at all levels of instruction.

Henson leaves Quincy soccer team

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Tim Henson is putting education ahead of athletics — for now anyway.

Henson, a two-time all-state goalie for the Warrior soccer team, became the second Granite City soccer recruit in as many years to leave the Quincy College team before his freshman season ever started. He informed Hawks coach Jack MacKenzie last Friday that he wanted out.

"I just wanted to worry about schoolwork," said Henson, who is back home in Granite City. "Everything was great up there. But I didn't want to worry about school and soccer at the same time."

Skip Birdsong was Quincy's top recruit in 1991 and lasted three days. He's now playing at Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey. That an option for Henson, who could play this year at a junior college. But since MacKenzie didn't release him from his scholarship, Henson can't play at a Division I school until at least next year.

Henson said he was thinking of enrolling at SIUE, which doesn't begin classes until later this month.

Tim Henson

"I was kind of thinking all summer about whether I wanted to be up there or not," he said. "I thought about just quitting the team and staying in school (at Quincy). But I didn't think that would be right."

Henson's high school coach, Gene Baker, respects the decision, but he's possibly a little embarrassed by having virtually the same thing happen two years in a row. The top recruit from 1989, Scott Stone, also backed out (See HENSON, Page 5B)

9. Hazelwood West	12-2-3
10. Francis Howell North	12-2-3

Also receiving votes, in order: Oakville, Parkway South, Oakridge, Edwardsville, CBC, Oakville, St. Paul, Belleville West, St. Dominic, Hazelwood Central.
Last year's final record is listed.

In Missouri, have eight starters back from their 19-7-2 team of a year ago and traditionally have competed extremely well against large-class schools from both sides of the river.

The No. 5 Junior Hills of St. Louis University High play the hardest schedule in the area and have only two returning starters, but coach Eddie Dunn's teams are always in a position to win the title late in the season.

Warriors fourth in 1st poll; Vianney unanimous No. 1

A scoreless draw in last season's Missouri state soccer title match meant a shared championship for Vianney and DeMet, two favorites to again reach the finals at the St. Louis Soccer Park.

In this week's preseason soccer poll of Suburban Journals sports editors, however, Vianney is alone at the top. In fact, the Golden Griffins are the unanimous No. 1 pick. Granite City is No. 4.

The seven Journal sports editors compiling this year's soccer poll each gave their first-place vote to Vianney, which enters this season with a 26-game unbeaten streak and a strong returning cast led by seniors Jerry Mercurio, Jeff Venzler and Cliff Polite. The Griffins visit Granite City on Saturday.

Meanwhile, defending Illinois state champion Collinsville was a strong selection in the No. 2 poll position. The Kahoks, 24-2-3 as champions, are led by returning senior starters Tino Galvan, Derek Cooper and Mike Darnell. Collinsville, however, lost 2-1 to Edwardsville in its 1992 season opener Tuesday.

Another state champ, Rosary, placed No. 3 in the poll not far behind Collinsville. The Rebels, the defending Class 1A-3A champion.

Flyers start on top again

From now on, maybe the voting should start with No. 2.

This season's top-ranked large school team in the Journal preseason football poll, East St. Louis, has once again taken the drama out of the race for No. 1.

The Flyers, 12-1 last season, were a unanimous first-place selection in this week's poll of Journal sports editors. East St. Louis, ranked 15th among prep high school programs by USA

Today, will have to prove it quickly. The Flyers open at home Saturday with Missouri Class 4A state champion Sumner.

Another matchup of top-ranked teams has No. 2 Mehlville, a state semifinalist last season, against Suburban North power Hazelwood Central, which is ranked eighth. Friday night at Lindenwood College, Mehlville returns its entire backfield, including quarterback Rahsetnu Jenkins.

Other teams to garner lofty status include No. 3 Parkway Lafayette, Parkway South, Oakville, Belleville West.

Among the small schools, ABC power John Burroughs garnered six of seven first-place votes. They are led by powerhouse running back Greg Smith, the son of former Big Red tight end Jackie Smith.

The dissenting opinion went to Hillsboro (12-1), which loses all seven things running back Greg Cain, but returns a strong cast. Belleville Althoff (4-4), which played just eight games because most teams won't schedule them, are a strong No. 3 this season. The Crusaders edged out Dupon (8-2), a loaded No. 4 squad, which opens by hosting ninth-ranked Berkeley Friday night.

If the Cahokia Comanches are coming to town, it must be the start of the new football season.

Cahokia has been the Warriors' opening-night opponent for many years, and 1992 is no exception. The Comanches (4-5 last year) visit Memorial Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Friday as Don Harris begins his head coaching career at CCHS.

Rob Eden starts his seventh season at Cahokia, and his 17th season overall as a head coach. He has a career record of 99-74-1, and the Warriors would like him to delay his coaching career at CCHS.

It won't be real easy. The Warriors are never overworked with quickness, so they'll have to make sure Comanche senior Donald Whitney doesn't get too much open space. Whitney gained 802 yards on the ground last year and averaged more than 10 yards every time he touched the ball, with eight touchdowns.

Whitney has drawn some interest from Kansas and SIU.

Hicks gets two in win over CM

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Though usually thought of as a game of speed and finesse, soccer has its power side.

The 1992 Warriors aren't loaded with size, but they used their strength to its utmost Tuesday in a 4-0 win over Civic Memorial. The Gauntlet. The win in the home opener lifted Granite City to 2-0 heading into tonight's game with Cahokia.

In seniors Ben Hicks and Brent Dippel, the Warriors have two of the bigger players in the area. Dippel, though hampered by a leg injury, overpowered two Eagles to score the game's first goal in the first quarter. Hicks showed off his shooting ability with two goals, both coming on powerful shots from well out. Josh Jenkins and

JVB, Hoosiers host tourney this weekend

John Van Buskirk and the Indiana University soccer team kick off the 1992 season this weekend by hosting the 10th annual Adidas Met Life Soccer Classic.

The Hoosiers, national semifinalists a year ago, are ranked fourth in one national pre-season poll and fifth in another. IU plays No. 13 Duke at 6 p.m. Friday, then meets No. 2 UCLA at 6 p.m. Saturday. Notre Dame and UCLA meet Friday with Notre Dame meeting Duke in Saturday's final game. The tournament is at Bill Armstrong Stadium in Bloomington, Ind.

Van Buskirk, a 1990 graduate of Granite City High School, was a first-team all-Big Ten pick as a sophomore at IU. The 6-1, 188-pound center midfielder scored 19 goals and assisted three goals and two assists. He is one of the Hoosier's most experienced players, having started several games as a freshman in 1989.

Other St. Louis-area players on the IU roster include redshirt freshman Jeff Bannister of St. Louis, who sat out last year after reconstructive knee surgery. He was the Granite City Tournament of Champions MVP as a high school junior in 1989.

Freshman Harry Weiss of Des Moines, like Bannister, will be looking for playing time as a forward for the Hoosiers.

The 1992-93 season will visit St. Louis on Sept. 26 and 27, the big games of the year. The St. Louis U. Billikens are also ranked among the top five teams in the nation and also made the national semifinals in 1991.

Local bowler first in Gateway Classic

Frank Reyes of Granite Bowl placed first in the Masters Division of the season Aug. 13-14 at Sunset Lakes.

Reyes averaged 236 for the day and rolled a perfect game and a 754 series. His high games were 285, 205, 239, 207, 224, 257 and the 290 Reyes was high qualifier in the Masters Division.

For his accomplishments, Reyes will receive a $100 scholarship, a jacket and a high qualifier trophy from the Gateway Classic Tournament and YABA will award Reyes with a ring and emblem. Reyes bowls in the Junior Scratch League at Granite Bowl.

Gateway Classics are designed to encourage youth bowlers to compete on a scratch basis. There are nine tournaments during the year and each tournament has a scholarship award for first place this season. There are three different divisions: Major (150 average), Classic (170 or better) and Masters (190 or better).

Gateway Classic tournaments are part of the Junior Bowler Club of Greater St. Louis and is run by Arlene Spaldott. Granite Bowl will be hosting a tournament in April of next year.

Old Six Mile has first golf tourney

The Old Six Mile Historical Society held its first benefit golf tournament at The Legacy on Aug. 28.

First place went to Bill Earley's team with a score of 62. Second place was a tie between Steve Van Dyke's team and Jim Briggs' team with scores of 63 each. A drawing for a free year of golf at The Legacy was won by Steve Signal of the Central Bank team.

Tournament sponsors were Tri County Builders, Central Bank, Irwin-Chapel, Tops & Bottoms, Glik's, The Legacy and Jerry's Restaurant.

'Potato Classic' Sept. 13

The seventh annual Potato Classic Golf Tournament will be held at Oakbrook Golf Course in Edwardsville on Sept. 13.

It will be a four-person scramble event. The entry fee is a bag of non-perishable groceries and $10. The groceries and money are to be brought to Madison Avenue, 1711 Kennedy Drive in Madison, by Sept. 6. Over the years, the groceries have been donated to the Protestant Relief Organization, Catholic Charities and the Phoenix Crisis Center.

Prizes will be awarded. After the tournament, golfers will enjoy an Italian dinner with all the trimmings. All golfers are also encouraged to enter the Potato Beauty Contest for a chance to win $100.

For more information, call the Madison Avenue at 876-9621 or Joe Engle at 351-9466.

Hall of Fame bowling tourney down to final 10 rolloff Friday

Ten bowlers will take dead aim at the $100 first prize in the championship rolloff in the Granite City Sports Hall of Fame Grand Slam Bowling Tournament at 10 p.m. Friday at Granite Bowl.

Dave Hunka of Madison, who started the tournament five weeks ago with a perfect game, goes into the finals as a 2-for scorer with his 835 series.

"It makes no difference," said tournament director Dennis Ross. "All 10 start over at zero and it's anyone's ballgame. There are some excellent bowlers in the finals. It should be exciting."

Collinsville's Bruce Domesick (802) and Layton Pedicord of Greenville (801) placed second and third in the qualifying sessions. Rounding out the top 10 are Randy Choat of Granite City (773), John Austin of St. Louis (753), Mike Suess of Granite City (745), Rich Lijewski of Granite City (737), Keith Rutter of Madison (728) and Bob Wheeler of Troy (709).

Proceeds from the tournament will be used to retire the debt on the Hall of Fame multipurpose complex adjacent to the Warrior football field on Fehling Road. Les Thompson, chairman of the Hall of Fame committee, announced that the building will be open to the public one hour prior to the start of all Warrior varsity football games and remain open after the games to accommodate fans. Numerous pictures and sports memorabilia have been added to the collection since the building was dedicated in May. Admission is free.

The bowling tournament is sponsored by Wal-Mart, Coca-Cola and Granite Bowl.

Track championships decided

By Rick Stoff

Ed Bauman, Rick Bayer, Dave Jones and Rick Rhoades closed the regular season at Tri-City Speedway with feature victories Saturday. Bauman, Jones and Charlie Smith wrapped up the 1992 campaign with track championships.

Jim Rarick set the fastest qualifying time in the Clark Oil Late Model Series (14.180 seconds) and led the night's first feature until Bauman moved in front to claim his eighth win of the season. Bill Shaw and Mark Voigt followed Bauman across the line.

In the second late model feature, Rick Bayer worked the high groove to perfection to take the win over Shaw and Bill Faust.

Jones will be the track champion.

Elks team seeks players

The Granite City Elks boys soccer team is looking for more boys who want to play soccer. To be eligible, boys must have been born Aug. 1, 1979, or later. For more information, call 797-6375.

Room for improvement, but golfers' record moves to 4-1

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

The Warrior golf team is winning, but they haven't been overly impressive. That worries coach Russ Chappell. Granite City improved to 4-1 on the season with a narrow victory over Alton Marquette and a blowout of Metro East Lutheran on Tuesday at Spencer T. Olin golf course in Alton.

The Warriors shot a 168, just enough to hold off Marquette (169). Metro East Lutheran came in with a 202. Scott Johnson turned in the best score of the day (37) to lead Marquette. Dave Baden's 48 led the way for Metro East Lutheran.

Josh McClelland was the low man for the Warriors with a round of 40. In two matches this year only one player — Ken Felty, who shot a 39 in the season opener — has broken the 40 barrier. P.J. Hamilton (41), Dan Petersen (43) and Felty (44) rounded out the scoring for the Warriors.

"Our record doesn't in any way impress me," said Chappell. "Some of the kids are putting too much pressure on themselves. They need to work on the mental part of the game. The way they have been playing really worries me."

The Warriors haven't really been tested yet, as the tough part of their schedule is still a few weeks away. But they haven't exactly been putting away some of the weaker teams early on.

A couple of players who might be pressuring themselves too much are seniors Jon Duft and Gabe Mitchell. Both shot 47s on Tuesday. Chappell is confident they will turn their games around, but he's hoping it happens soon.

"It's psychological right now," said Chappell. "I'm going to try to shake things up a bit."

The Lady Warrior tennis team opened the season with a 4-3 home loss to Triad on Tuesday. Tara Wyatt (1-6, 7-6, 7-6) was the only singles winner for Granite City. The doubles teams of Jodi Forister and Lea Ames (6-4, 7-5) and Joanna Webb and Michelle Langsdorf (6-4, 6-3) won their matches. Granite City plays at Edwardsville on Friday at 4 p.m. out on a verbal commitment to UNLV. Among top recruits each of the past four years, only John Van Buskirk (Indiana) has stayed put.

"Despite it all, Tim is still a wonderful kid and a great athlete," said Baker. "It's unfortunate how it happened, but it's a personal or a family choice. I'm ambivalent about it because of my feelings towards Jack MacKenzie. He's one of the better college coaches around and a great person."

"I know Timmy was devastated by the loss to Collinsville (in sectional play) last year. But there's a long way to go in life and there will be much worse things than that."

MacKenzie doesn't harbor any ill will personally towards Henson, Birdsong or the Warrior program. He wanted to stress that Granite City's Curt Kessler, also a freshman, is still at Quincy and figures to contribute this year.

"It's unfortunate it happened to be a Granite City player both times," he said. "They both could have contributed a lot to our program. There were some other goalies we didn't recruit because we thought we had Tim."

Quincy had a four-year starter in Scott Gregory, graduate last year, so the goalkeeping job was open. Henson figured to be the man, but now Vianney sophomore John Klukas will step in.

Henson, who wants to major in elementary education, said he will play recreational soccer until he makes a final decision about getting back into the college game.

Jr. Blues fundraisers in Affton this month

The St. Louis Junior Blues will face the Kalamazoo Wings, a Junior A hockey team, in exhibition fund-raiser games, Sept. 19 and 20 at the Affton Ice Arena.

Game times will be announced soon. Tickets are $3 each, with proceeds going to the Junior Blues and toward travel expenses for the Kalamazoo team.

Kalamazoo will feature two players expected to go high in next summer's NHL draft, defenseman Chris Slater and forward Dennis Wright.

The Junior Blues, a Junior B team, finished in second place last season and have 110 players vying for roster spots during current training camp sessions.

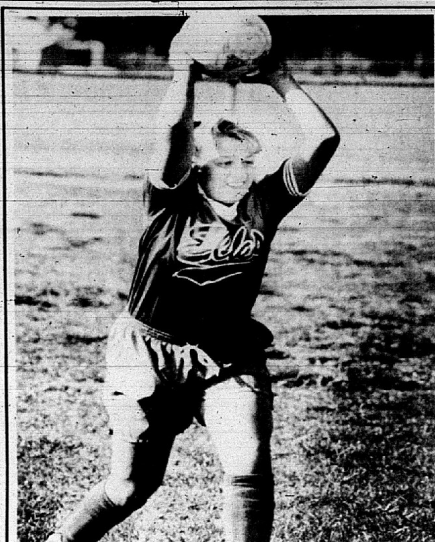

The Junior Blues' regular season begins Saturday, Sept. 26 at Affton against the Fort Wayne Chiefs.

For more information call Craig Higgs at 962-4806.

QCSA seeks coaches, players for fall session

The Quad Cities Soccer Association is looking for someone interested in coaching a soccer team for boys and girls born in 1984.

QCSA is also looking for boys and girls born in 1983 and 1984 to play in the fall session. Anyone wanting to play, coach or wanting more information should call the QCSA hotline at 876-9000.

ed the other goal.

"Those players have to use their strength," said coach Gene Baker. "Hicks can become quite an offensive force with the way he can shoot the ball. Brent has always been able to do those things. But it's tough keeping things going when we have to sit him out."

Dippel rested his leg for the last three quarters, but the Warriors were on cruise control. They putshot the Eagles 13-0 and had six corner kicks. David Kasprovic, Cory Cooper and Mike Bristol all saw time in goal, but none had to face a shot in the shutout.

"We knew we would have our hands full," said CM coach Don Woelfel. "Our goalie (Brad Ambrose) had no previous experience back there, but he did a good job most of the night."

We had five freshmen or sophomores starting, so it kind of went like we expected. We love getting the chance to play Granite City, though."

Dippel took a pass from Shawn Petroksi and outmuscled defender Jason Ahlers on the left wing and put a shot past Ambrose on the short side at 12:46 for his second goal in as many games. Hicks and Jason Maxfield had good chances later in the half, but the Eagles managed to keep it close.

But Hicks made it 2-0 at 44:39 of the third quarter on an assist from J.B. Anderson. He made a run right down the middle of the field and blasted one past Ambrose to the lower right corner. Jenkins got his first Warrior goal at 67:19 as Paul Bucherich's corner kick came out deep to the left side. His hard left-footer went through Ambrose's hands. Hicks finished the scoring on a direct kick from 25 yards out at 71:06.

"We're not talking enough yet," said Baker. "We're using a lot of people, so maybe that contributes to it. We'll try to play through Cahokia to get ready for Vianney (Saturday night). We might use fewer people in that one."

"We need to tackle the ball a little better. The discipline to use the right technique isn't quite there. But our goalkeeping was much more solid tonight than Saturday, a 3-2 win at Peoria (Richwoods)."

Punt, Pass & Kick Sept. 21

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a Punt, Pass and Kick competition Sept. 21.

The competition will be held at Diamond 8 beginning at 6 p.m. All children ages 8-13 are eligible. Age classification is as of Nov. 24 of the current year.

Scoring will be for punting, passing and kicking, and involves both accuracy and distance.

Registration begins Sept. 6 at the Wilson Park office at 9 a.m. For more information, call Ray Hoffman at 877-3059.

Now is the time of year when local baseball and softball leagues are winding down. To get a photo in the paper, teams must have finished first or won the league playoff championship. For more information, call 876-2000.

week. "I'm not worried about what Granite City thinks of those remarks. It's my last season and I want to go out with a bang."

Moore talked a good game as well and usually backed it up. Whitney has a much more inexperienced and less dominating offensive line to help him, but Harris is still concerned.

"I scouted their scrimmage, and Cahokia has a well-rounded ball club," he said. "They have one major factor in their favor: quickness. We can't practice against it because we don't have as much in our program."

"Whitney is the type of player who can score from anywhere. Our kicking game, especially this early in the season, has to bottle them up."

The Warriors, 8-2 with mostly seniors a year ago, are still putting things together. A good scrimmage last Friday helped the coaches learn more.

"I'm pleased with our hitting level," said Harris. "But we've got a lot of young people stepping to the forefront. We have to correct some things before Friday's game."

The Warriors used a series of big plays to beat the Comanches 32-0 a year ago and set the stage for their big season. They also beat Cahokia 21-7 here two years ago.

"Granite City isn't the powerhouse it was last year," said Eden. "But they're still bigger than we are and they'll try to jam the ball down our throats on the ground. We can't give up the big play like we did last year. Four crucial mistakes took us right out of the game."

Only three 1991 starters return for the Warriors: running back/linebacker Jeff Luffman, offensive lineman Pat Jessee and defensive lineman John Tipton. Senior Les Nunes will be the quarterback.
